

Standard Pricing Information

At Accu-coat Spray On Bedliners we strive to offer the lowest pricing possible, so we figure our prices based on a clean truck bed, we do not build extra cleaning into our pricing tier as it seems unfair to you the customer to pay for a service you may not use. With that being said anytime we receive a truck or any other product that has extra work or cleaning that has to be performed that was unforeseen as a detail via quoting methods. Accu-coat reserves the right to charge a fair amount in addition to the original quoted pricing, as always we will always try to contact you and inform you of such charges, but in the event we cannot reach you the job will continue and you will be billed when the job is complete. Remember we are a family owned and operated business and understand how important each family dollar is, rest assured we will not gouge or produce any unfair or unjust charges. There will also be a removal and/or a disposal fee for plastic liners plus the above mentioned cleaning fees, this seems to not be that big of a deal to most people but actually take time to remove, dispose, and clean/prep the vehicle for spray, as plastic liners typically will hold in a lot of dirt, water and grim that has to be removed. Accu-coat reserves the right to destroy, reuse, or resale any item removed and/or left over from any given job that isn't claimed or taken away at the conclusion of the job being performed.

As always we appreciate your business and look forward to serving you!

Sincerely,
Chad Brewer - Owner
